BOMBERS ARE POUNDING JAP BASES

Hundreds of Tons of Explosives Blast Island Concentrations of Barbarians

EFFECTS ARE TELLING

Allied Headquarters in the Southwest Pacific, July 12.—(P)—American bombers pounded four widely-separated Japanese bases in the southwest Pacific Sunday, striking most heavily at Munda, the enemy's key defense point in the central Solomons.

More than 176 tons of bombs were loosed on the Japanese strongholds and at least nine Zeros which attempted to interfere were shot down. One Liberator and two Allied fighters were lost.

Torpedo and dive-bombers loosed 52 tons of heavy bombs upon anti-aircraft positions and bivouac areas near Munda. Stormy weather hampered the Avengers and Dauntless bombers as they roared in on Munda in another of the series of raids designed to soften the sector for ground forces already gathering in the jungle to storm the Japanese stronghold. The communiqué from General Douglas MacArthur's headquarters said results of the attack were unobserved. Pilots who took part in the raid, however, reported that the enemy's defenses were being found by their intended marks.

A headquarters spokesman said the ground situation at Munda was unchanged. Latest reports said United States forces were closing in on the outer perimeter of defense, with the nearest troops only three miles from Munda.

Liberator bombers over Bougainville Island dropped 40 tons of bombs on Kahili, the enemy's largest air base in the Solomons. Several large fires were started. Three Japanese night fighters attempted unsuccessfully to intercept.

Liberators and Flying Fortresses teamed up for a night assault against Vunakanau airdrome at Rabaul. Their 35 tons of bombs started five large fires, two of which were visible 60 miles away. Many smaller fires, followed by a number of heavy explosions, also were observed.

In the Salamaua area, Mitchell Bombers, escorted by P-38's, dropped down almost to tree-top levels to deliver a devastating attack on villages along the trail from Mubo to Salamaua. Forty-nine tons of bombs were dropped and the Malolo village area was heavily strafed. Our Lightnings shot down five enemy fighters that attempted interception, but two of our fighters were missing.

Word was received in Warren this morning of the death of Chapin Hall in Fresno, California from a heart attack. Funeral services are not as yet arranged.

Mr. Hall was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Hall and was born and reared in this city. He was wedded to a granddaughter of the late Judge Johnson, Miss Marjorie Watson, and several children with Mrs. Hall survive.

Entering newspaper work in his young manhood Mr. Hall was the first editor of the Warren Evening Times and played a large part in the stirring campaign in which Joseph Sibley, of Franklin and Lewis Emery, of Bradford were opponents for Congress. The Times espoused the cause of Mr. Emery and waged a strong but losing battle.

Later Mr. Hall went to Phoenix, Arizona where his work in the editorial field attracted the attention of the Los Angeles Times and he moved on to that paper where he rose to become Managing Editor which post he held for many years.

Some years ago he made a trip to South America in behalf of the Los Angeles Times flying hundreds of miles in the Republics there and writing a series of articles on the market potentialities of the South American nations for the producers of the West.

By DANIEL DE LUCE
Allied Headquarters in North Africa, July 12.—(AP)—Smashing forward in coordinated land, air and naval assaults Allied forces have captured 10 major towns and ports, including Syracuse, in their lightning invasion of Sicily, now in its third day, Allied headquarters announced today.

An Allied headquarters communique said: "Few details are available of the work of the navy during the past 24 hours.

"The task of disembarking troops and their supplies on all beaches continues according to plan.

"On the whole, weather conditions have improved though enemy interference from the air has been on a slightly increased scale.

"Defended areas near the coast town of Pozzallo, 12 miles west of Cape Carrenzi, and the railroad line between Syracuse and Ragusa were bombarded last night by our destroyers.

"The surrender of Pozzallo was accepted by the commanding officer of a destroyer during the early afternoon Sunday.

"Our ground forces have continued to make good progress.

"During the course of the day seven enemy counter-attacks which were being made with tanks have been repulsed and at least 2,000 prisoners have been taken.

"It can now be stated that the following major towns and ports have been captured by our forces: Syracuse, Avola, Pachino, Pozzallo, Scoglitti, Gela, Licata, Ispica, Rosolini and Noto."

Syracuse is approximately 30 miles north of Capo Passero, at the southeastern tip of the island and is a city of 53,000 population. Licata, at the extreme left wing of the string of ports and towns taken in the Allied advance, is approximately 80 miles west of the cape.

The headquarters announcement said the Allied navies continued to roll reinforcements of men and supplies onto all beaches seized in the 100-mile stretch of Sicilian coast yesterday despite increased air opposition, while ground forces made good progress and repulsed all enemy counter-attacks.

At least 2,000 prisoners have been captured, it was stated.

(An official announcement from Malta said Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., was commanding the United States forces in Sicily, while Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery was leading the British troops in the invasion.)

The civilian population "seemed more pleased to see us than they had been to see the Huns," said one observer.

Oil Shortage Problem to Go To Roosevelt

Washington, July 12.—(P)—A special congressional committee investigating the petroleum shortage in the east disclosed it has gained an opportunity to present to President Roosevelt its recommendations to prevent a "fuel oil famine" from endangering lives and halting war production this winter.

Rep. Hartley (R-N.J.), chairman of the group, said yesterday that an audience had been arranged for him with the president within a few days, and that it would be attended by war mobilization director James F. Byrnes, war production chief Donald Nelson, price administrator Prentiss Brown, and Joseph Eastman, director of defense transportation.

"We are not alone concerned with the severe gasoline shortage," said Hartley, "but we also are especially concerned about the fuel oil supply for our homes, institutions and war industries this winter."

The committee has recommended:

1. Extension of rationing to the midwestern states—"not," as Hartley put it, "because misery loves company"—but to build up reserves there for later shipment to the east.

2. An increase in the price of crude oil to encourage wildcat prospecting and production in stripper and secondary wells.

3. Greater utilization of canals for the Mediterranean island of Sicily.

REDS HOLD HUN HORDES ALONG LINE

Huge Losses on Both Sides Reported in Communications of Both Commanders in Field

TANKS CLASHING

By WILLIAM MCGAFFIN
Moscow, July 12.—(P)—The battle of the Belgorod breach continued with undiminished fury today, with the Russians insisting that they have effectively prevented German tanks from enlarging the wedge they drove into the Red army lines five days ago.

Field Marshal Guenther von Kluge's armored columns were also smashing with fresh emphasis on the Orel-Kursk end of the Kursk salient, but here, too, the Russians claim, they were absorbing the best that the Nazis could give.

The Kursk sector blazed into more furious action as the second week of the German offensive began, but it was not yet clear whether Von Kluge has shifted the main weight of his attack from Belgorod in a possible search for an easier spot to breach the unyielding Russian lines.

A German communique, broadcast by Berlin radio and recorded by the Associated Press, said an important Russian force had been encircled and wiped out between Orel and Belgorod. Several thousand prisoners were taken, the communique said, and 129 Red tanks were destroyed. Numerous guns and other war material were captured.

(The communique claimed a total of 220 Russian tanks and 70 airplanes were destroyed on this July, and added that Red army losses since July 5 totaled 25,000 prisoners, 1640 tanks and 1,400 guns destroyed.)

In any event, the Russians declared that the Germans were fighting in general on much the same (Turn to Page Seven)

Oil Soon To Be Moving In Big Inch Pipe

Lancaster, July 12.—(P)—The first trickle of oil through the big inch pipe line will reach eastern Pennsylvania before the end of July, says George Brigrance, construction superintendent for the War Emergency Pipeline Co.

Brigrance said less than 15 miles of the line remains to be completed in this area. Oil will flow into the line at Norris City, Ill., this week, he said.

SENATOR IN DRIVE FOR WAR CABINET

Vandenberg Smacks Palace Guard of Roosevelt's Urging It Be Demobilized Soon

WAXES CAUSTIC

By JACK BELL

Washington, July 12.—(P)—With the assertion that "the palace guard has got to be mobilized soon," Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) called today for the establishment of a war cabinet to help President Roosevelt direct activities on the home front.

Forecasting further reorganizations in the administrative branch of government after congress returns to work this fall, Vandenberg told an interviewer that he believes there is a "relentless trend" underway in the country toward formation of what he said "we loosely call a war cabinet."

"We need something of that kind instead of the existing kitchen cabinet in which there is very little confidence," he declared, adding: "The palace guard has got to be demobilized soon."

By "palace guard" Vandenberg said he meant the circle of advisers to the president, including Harry Hopkins, who the Republican senator said appeared often to be highly influential in shaping policy decisions which were not always concurred in by the heads of departments and bureaus affected.

Wounded Don't Like To Talk About the Battles

Phoenixville, Pa., July 12.—(AP)—The wounded don't talk about the war.

Here where the scream of the Axis shells still echoes in the ears of Tunisian veterans, they don't talk about the invasion of Sicily. They talk about the all-star ball game, their leaves, their future.

The old wheeze "join the army and forget about the war" is ironically underlined along the labyrinthine corridors of the Army's new Valley Forge General Hospital.

When, pressed by a civilian, they do remember, it isn't of dates and places. It's things like this: "The hardest part is the waiting. You sit around for a couple of days and nothing happens. Suddenly they turn (Turn to Page Two)

Showdown Is Troops Kill Due Today In Negro In Riot Coal Fields At Shenango

Pittsburgh, July 12.—(P)—A back-to-work movement apparently was under way today in the southwestern Pennsylvania soft coal fields, where insurgent strikes last week prevented more than 17,000 diggers from going to their jobs.

Four major steel company-owned "captive" pits employing about 3,000 men resumed operations, and a half dozen smaller mines in the area were reported partially operating. About 14,000 men still were absent from the mines.

"A dispute arose between white and colored soldiers at a post exchange about 9:30 p. m. Sunday. The troops were addressed by the post commander, who pointed out the serious consequence that might arise in such a situation.

STRUCK BY TRAIN HESCH NEAR DEATH

Former Warren Refinery Employee in Hospital at Youngstown in Critical Condition

GIVEN OXYGEN

Thrown under a moving train in the Erie Railroad yards in Youngstown, Ohio, last Friday night, Hiram Hesch, formerly of Warren, was so badly injured that amputation of one leg was necessary and he has been placed in an oxygen tent in St. Elizabeth's Hospital, from where today's reports indicate his condition is still considered very critical.

Mr. Hesch, who resided at 212 Thronton avenue, Youngstown, and is employed as a brakeman for the transportation company, is said to have received several fractured ribs, severe bruises and lacerations and possibly other injuries as the result of having been dragged for some distance before the train could be stopped.

A resident of Warren practically all of his life and former employee of the Conewango Refining Company, he left here two years ago to enter the Erie's employ. He is a son of George Jacob Hesch, who died three weeks ago today, and was here to attend his father's rites.

Summoned to his bedside in St. Elizabeth's were his brothers, Geo. and Jacob, of Warren, and Robert, here on furlough from Arizona; also his sister, Mrs. Phil Chapman, of Erie. With him, also, is his wife, the former Ruth Appel, of Warren, and his two children.

Speakers Of Note Here On Thursday For Defense Confab

One of the most important events in Warren in connection with home-front activities will be held at the Warren County court house at 1:30 p. m. on Thursday of this week, July 15. This will be a regional conference on Civilian War Services which will be attended by representatives of nine counties comprising Region 7: Erie, Warren, Clarion, Crawford, Forest, Elk, Mercer, Venango and McKean.

The conference will deal with civilian activities of a non-protective nature, that is, all activities which are directly defensive. Mrs. Worthington Scranton, commander of the War Activities Staff of the State Council of Defense, will conduct the meeting, which is designed to instruct county leaders.

Chairmen of Warren county committees are urged to attend, including Salvage, Victory Gardening, Consumers' Interests, Volunteer Office, Block Leaders Services, Welfare, Nutrition, Child Care, and

A number of the specialists will be in Warren earlier in the day to inspect the Control Center, and to conduct separate discussions after the meeting at the office of the Warren County Council of Defense. One of the discussions will be on the subject of Salvage. It is urgently necessary that this meeting be attended by all county chairmen and other workers in the various fields of Civilian Defense Activities.

The program follows: Welcome—Mrs. Walter Spofford, Civilian War Services Liaison, (Turn to Page Three)

Corset Led To Argument Which Police Had to Settle

Now a corset is one of those things that is usually under cover. In this day of rubber scarcity and boneless stays there are few who sport a corset which is a creation of art, hooks, whale bone, strings and things—with perhaps a little lace. Memory sort of fails as to the architectural structure of the things but they give to the female figure that firm foundation that puts the bulges where they don't show and makes for the willowy movement so much desired to please big men. So when an argument over a corset which cost $25 of the present pre-inflation currency it becomes matter of news and especially when a man gets hold of the corset and won't give it back to the owner who desires to be svelt. So the police were called in and they soon adjusted (not the corset) but the argument. Now the corset, we hope, is where it belongs, encasing the form of the owner.

And drunks bothered the police over the weekend. It just seemed to be an epidemic of soused males with a desire to sing in restaurants, sleep in the parks, battle their wives and get locked up. It all takes time to get the stewed brethren tucked in beds and the coppers were busy. The borough coffers were also swollen by the fines and costs.

At 1:45 Sunday, a dog in a locked car attracted the attention of passersby and the police and emergency truck from the fire station were both summoned. The car window was finally broken and the dog recovered in a short time. The owner was Fred Reynolds, of Titusville.

John Phillips, a soldier AWOL, was sought by the State Police and the local officers toured out after him. Located in the Lexington avenue skating rink he attempted to skate out a back door but Officer Ouyrid was posted there and Phillips was locked up for disposal by the State Police.

A lad who had pinched a sum of money from his brother was picked up but the brother refused to prosecute and the boy was turned over to his father to apply strap oil.

A hit-run driver was hunted on request of the State Police but he was not located. Just as a variation to their many duties the police answered a fire call at the Gordon junk yard on Chestnut street where the firemen battled a fire in the yard which aided the junk men in the demolition of some old automobiles. The loss was nil and both the firemen and police recalled this was their second tour to the junk yard.

"Bill" Muir Presents Record In Seeking Treasurership

National Forge at 4:50, investigated why his grandfather had not moved for some time, and found him dead. Coroner Ed Lowrey was notified and agreed with the diagnosis of heart failure.

Mr. Long leaves the following sons and daughters: James, of Apollo; Charles, of Vandergrift; Mrs. Ralph Mathis, of Vandergrift; Mrs. Glenn Huselton, of East Hickory; a step-daughter, Mrs. Stella Billis, of McKeesport; also two brothers and two sisters: Ben and Robert and Mrs. Alma McKelvy, of Bolivar, and Mrs. Della Amor, of Clairton.

The body was removed to the Sage funeral home at Tidoute and was taken to Vandergrift today.

In another column of this paper is an announcement that W. W. Muir, prominent Warren businessman and for years a bulwark in the Republican party, is a candidate for the office of Warren county treasurer. Always an organization man, Mr. Muir is making a direct appeal to the members of that party to support him in his campaign.

As a Republican worker, Mr. Muir was one of the men who helped rebuild the Republican party a few years ago when it was in the doldrums. He had many fellow workers in those difficult years who are supporting him in the present campaign.

Mr. Muir has the rare reputation of integrity in his political relations, and a review of his work as a member of the Pennsylvania legislature is proof that he has worked for the good of Warren county people during his active days in Harrisburg.

During the recent session of the state legislature, Mr. Muir was instrumental in obtaining an increase of salary for the teachers in a way that cost the local taxpayers no increase in millage.

Through his efforts House Bill 809, which would have ruined rural electrification for many people in the farming communities, and Senate Bill 315, which will save thousands of dollars for taxpayers in Conewango township, first and second, Glade township, first and second, Mead township, first, second and third, Pleasant township and Clarendon borough, were defeated. And he aided in the passage of many important pieces of legislation that were of benefit to all of his constituents.

As a Republican, Mr. Muir has served as sheriff and in the state assembly. He has been state committeeman, a position of great responsibility but for which there is no remuneration, and he has served the party as ward committeeman. Mr. Muir's record leaves no doubt in anyone's mind that he is a loyal member of the Republican party.

In addition to his political activities, Mr. Muir has proven in other ways that he is eligible and capable of handling the duties of the county treasurer's office. For 20 years he has been one of Warren's business leaders, providing work for many employees, and contributing to all projects that were beneficial to Warren and Warren county. Proof of his state-wide reputation as a business man was his appointment to the chairmanship of the State House Banking Committee. His work on the committee was so commendable that he again was given the chairmanship in the 1943 session.

Mr. Muir comes to the voters of Warren county well qualified and thoroughly tried for the important office of county treasurer. He is deserving of the support of all staunch Republicans at the primary election on September 14, 1943.

Violations Of Gas Ban Punished

Violators of the ban on pleasure driving who were picked up by the OPA investigators in this city recently and whose cases with evidence were presented to the local Ration Board by the Erie office had a hearing Friday before the Warren County Gasoline Panel of the Ration Board. These are the only cases which have been presented to the local board, so far.

Norman Pierce, 106 North Carver street, was found to have been guilty of driving to a theatre and he was penalized two coupons from his "A" book.

August L. Anderson, 8 Melvina street, was found to have been using an excessive allowance of gasoline and he lost 30 C coupons from his ration book.

Kenneth A. Niles, 15 Fourth avenue, was found guilty of driving his automobile to the Country Club and his ration allowance was suspended for four days and reduced 75 per cent upon re-issuance.

Anna A. Hall, RD Warren, failed to appear in answer to the summons issued for her.

The hearings before the board were attended by representatives of the Erie office.

Organ and Voice Recital at Grace Methodist Church Proves Rare Treat to Large Audience

Grace Methodist church was the scene of a beautiful and inspiring recital Friday evening when George William Volkel, of Chautauqua and New York, assisted by Byron Swanson, well-known local tenor, presented a pleasing program.

From the moment Mr. Volkel struck the opening chord of Handel's "Tenth Organ Concerto" to his final encore he held his audience in rapt attention. Mr. Swanson likewise captivated the group with his opening numbers: MacDermid's "In My Father's House Are Many Mansions," and Mendelssohn's "If With All Your Hearts." Both numbers were sung with a depth of emotion and ease which are characteristic of the young singer.

Mr. Volkel returned to the console for his second group of numbers: "Three Pieces" by Bach (a) "Rejoice, Christians Beloved" (b) "Arioso," (c) "Fantasia and Fugue in G Minor." "Fantasia" was perhaps the most brilliant number of the entire program. Its daring and unusual changes were a perfect setting to portray the technical skill and emotional power of the organist.

Mr. Swanson's second group included the favorite and most widely known music by Handel: "Largo" from the humorous opera "Xerxes"; Beethoven's "In the Time of Roses"; and the beautiful and dramatic "The Lord's Prayer."

Mr. Volkel's final group included the work of Robert Schumann.

19th century composer and Robert Pereda, Leo Soverby and Gaston Dethier, all contemporary organists and composers. Pereda's "Berceuse," a lovely work with chimes, was especially enjoyed by the audience.

The delightful recital was climaxed with three encores. Mr. Volkel graciously responded with: "Song Without Words," "Flight of the Bumble Bee," and "Toccata from the 5th Symphony."

Immediately following the recital an informal reception was held in the church parlors. Summer flowers centered a table attractively appointed in crystal and white. Mrs. Harry Drivas and Mrs. Leroy Hammerbeck presided at the serving table. Musicians of Warren and Youngville were invited guests of Grace Methodist choir.

Mrs. Roy Krebs, newly elected president of the choir, was chairman of the refreshments committee, with Mrs. Carl Linquist, Mrs. Harry Drivas, Mrs. Leroy Hammerbeck, Mrs. Philip Maines assisting her. Garden flowers in profusion were artistically arranged in the church and parlors by Miss Mildred Dunkle and her committee; Mrs. Arnold Fitzgerald, Miss Pauline Riquier and Miss Gertrude Joy.

Musical of such high calibre is a rare treat to the music lovers of this vicinity and Grace church was fortunate in being able to present these talented musicians. This recital will long be remembered as one of the high lights of the season.

Golden Anniversary Of M. J. McMahon's

A pleasant family party held Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. McMahon, 704 East street, marked the passing of their golden wedding anniversary.

The couple were wed in Corry 50 years ago but have lived 40 of those years in this community. They have one daughter, Miss Genevieve, at home. Mr. McMahon was for many years a cigar maker, employed by the F. A. Steber Company until it became mechanized. After that, he was steward for the Loyal Order of Moose for 22 years, retiring in 1934.

Here from out of town for the anniversary party were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Burkhardt and children, Jimmy, Johnny, Eddie and Tommy. Mrs. William Zafropoulos and daughter, Marie Joan, Corry; Mrs. James Zafropoulos and son, Basil, Union City.

Throughout the day, Mr. and Mrs. McMahon were recipients of telegrams and greetings and the day will be remembered by many lovely gifts.

The Kane Community Hospital, is now permitted to have her friends call to see her.

Mrs. L. B. Jones, Oak street, was hostess to her bridge club last Thursday afternoon. Mrs. William Huie receiving the high score. Mrs. Axel Nelson, Miller street, entertained last Saturday afternoon, at a garden party honoring Mrs. Rudolph Anundson, Chicago, Ill. Mrs. J. P. Marr, New York City, and Mrs. Russell Johnson, Jamestown. In the evening Mrs. Anundson was given a coffee party at the home of Mrs. Carl A. Johnson, of Chandelers Valley. Alden Johnson entertained the ladies by playing the piano and the accordian. Others attending from Sheffield were Mrs. Axel Nelson, Mrs. August Hammer, Mrs. John Lundquist, and Mrs. C. F. Gailor.

Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Allen spent the weekend in Buffalo, N. Y., as guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Dods. Mr. and Mrs. William Griffin, Middleton, Conn., are the parents of a baby boy, born June 21st. Mrs. Griffin was the former Ruth Swartzfager.

IRVINE

Irvine, July 7.—At the morning service at the Irvine Presbyterian church on July 4th, seven young people on confession of their faith and one adult, by letter, became members of the church. The sacrament of baptism was administered to three. At this service tribute was paid Donald Archibald, a former attendant of the Presbyterian Sunday school, and who has been in the service for some time. His name has been placed on the Honor Roll of the church. Rev. Perrin remembered in his tribute prayer all those who give themselves that freedom shall not perish.

Sunday, July 4th, was the most quiet holiday we have ever heard, not even a firecracker, and it seemed good, as it seems there is shooting enough and not much to feel jolly over.

Katherine Johnson accompanied by several young ladies from the office spent several days over the holiday at Chautauqua Lake and report a very pleasant time, even if it did rain on the 4th.

Our people had a great shock the last of the week when the news came of the death of Mrs. Mabel Mattison, mother of George Mattison of this place. She spent much time here and was at the ice cream parlor and everyone had learned to love her. The sympathy of the entire town goes out to Mr. and Mrs. Mattison.

Mrs. Allie Johnson and little granddaughter, of Titusville, are visiting her sister, Mrs. Floyd Smith.

Mrs. Bertha Walters left last Thursday by bus for Port Allegany for a visit at the home of her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Long.

Mr. and Mrs. Adam Prichrillo and family and Mr. and Mrs. William Hucklestone visited at Ridgeway over the holiday.

Freddy Wilson is home for a week from the Navy. He expects to return tomorrow.

Mrs. Fred Wilson and son, Freddie, visited relatives in Kane Monday.

Richard Huling and Willis Munson expect to leave for the Army next Wednesday, July 14th. The shop gave their help three days' vacation over the holiday. It seemed very quiet.

KEEP BUYING BONDS

Word is heard in various circles that many contemplate dropping their purchase of War Bonds since the new withholding tax became effective.

To offset this plan or proposal, the Treasury Department offers the following highlights on the new tax program:

1. The new tax law does not increase taxes. Your tax rates are no higher than under the old law.
2. Remember—this new tax only applies after certain allowable exemptions. The new withholding tax is merely a way of paying your taxes as you go, instead of waiting until next year.
3. Don't give up the voluntary payroll savings plan. Don't stop buying war bonds out of your pay.
4. Keep on with your regular pay deductions. Don't let this new withholding tax lick a plan which is helping you save for the future and helping us all win the war.
5. If we fail with the voluntary payroll plan taxes are bound to be that much higher next year.
6. Our boys in uniform aren't quitting on us—let's not quit on them.

There seems to be a lot of sound, commonsense to the above recommendations.

It is also true that the only money many people have saved has been done so under the present payroll deduction plan.

The purchase of war bonds is not something that you take from your savings to be gone forever, but something saved for future years.

It has been said of many Americans the only way they can save money is to have it taken directly out of their pay envelope so that they won't have it to spend. That is quite true and there are scores who have money invested in war bonds today who wouldn't have a red cent unless it had been deducted from their pay.

The new income tax, as explained by the Treasury Department, permits you to keep up to date on your income tax instead of digging deep into the sock or borrowing the money to meet the payment due each March 15 as has been the custom in the past.

If you wish to avoid higher taxes next year, keep buying bonds now.

GAS FOR VACATIONS

Directly, the OPA ruling allowing gasoline for one vacation trip per motorist affects only those eastern seaboard states where pleasure driving is banned. But its implications are much broader. However one looks at the ruling, it reiterates and emphasizes the long established fact that the OPA is irresponsible.

Pleasure driving is forbidden, within the eastern area, because transportation facilities are not adequate to supply gasoline and heating oil for civilians and, at the same time, to provide petroleum products for overseas shipment to our fighting men.

For every gallon of gasoline that the OPA gives up now, to satisfy pressure that has political implications, either our fighters in and around Europe will go short during the invasion or, more likely, easterners will shiver and suffer next winter for lack of heating oil.

That is one alternative—a reason why such a concession probably was unwise in the first place. But let's waive that in favor of another alternative, and suppose that transportation capacity can be spared to supply gasoline for vacation driving.

Why, then, should fuel be granted only to those who are prosperous enough to have summer homes in the country or to go on regular "vacation trips"? Do they need rest, relaxation, convenience, more than the less prosperous?

If the OPA can spare eight gallons to Joe Jones' family to drive 60 miles each way to a lake or seashore hotel for two weeks, there is no equitable reason why Jack Smith's family should not use eight gallons to drive 10 miles to the beach, picnic grounds or even a golf course every other day while Jack is on vacation.

Such a ruling is so obviously unfair that it is apparent nobody in the OPA troubled to think through this vacation gasoline ruling. And that indicates that once more, as so often in the past, the OPA succumbed suddenly to pressure from outside and made a half-baked decision based upon inadequate pre-consideration.

So many such rulings have been made, modified, rescinded, restored, amended and generally bedeviled that everybody now takes it for granted that the OPA can be pushed around, ignored and scorned.

Washington In Wartime

(First of Two Articles on the Japanese strangle-holds in the Pacific)

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—Some military commentators recently have been prefacing their remarks with "Now that we have the Japanese stymied in the Pacific."

If there ever was a voice crying in the wilderness that such is not the case, it is the voice of Sen. Elbert D. Thomas, Democrat from Utah.

First, let me tell you about Senator Thomas. There are three "Thomas's" in the Senate, but they shouldn't be confused. Elbert D. Thomas started life in Salt Lake City 60 years ago, the Mormon son of Mormon parents. He followed family tradition by becoming a Mormon missionary.

His mission took him to Japan and later to China. His colleagues will readily admit that there isn't one of them who knows more about the Orient than Elbert Thomas. He was intimately acquainted with Admiral Togo and General Nogai.

"I'm study and teaching of history," he says, "I start and end with the Orient. That puts me out of harmony with most of the history departments of American institutions, because most of our history teaching deals with western Europe and America. The rest of the world we let go hang; and we today are suffering the consequences."

That may sound a little pedantic, but when it comes from a man held in such esteem by his colleagues that he is chairman of the Senate Education and Labor committee, and a member of the committees on Foreign Relations, Military Affairs, Mines and Mining, and Pensions, you can be sure it's not.

Senator Thomas is not one of the "all-out" critics of postwar plans of our war against the Japs. Although he is convinced that postponement of concentrated activity in that theater will prolong the war at least a year or two, he sees in our present strategy the possibility of saving many lives.

THE records of Guadalcanal, New Guinea and Aitua bear him out. These defensive offensives against Japanese outposts have been extravagant in dead, wounded, ill and captured. That they have cost the Japanese more dead than our own and Allied troops is little compensation.

Four things should be borne in mind: (1) The Japs are a desperate people, because they have made a desperate gamble to rule Asia or to go back to the days of Tokugawa Shogunate and isolate themselves again. (2) Except for the subjugation of inner China and the capture of an eastern anchor in New Caledonia or Hawaii, they already have accomplished all they set out to do in a military way, and now have only to fight a defensive war.

(3) Their manpower now numbers in the hundreds of millions and their resources in strategic materials are almost limitless. (4) Through propaganda, Asiatic blood ties and an understanding of the Oriental mind, the Japs are well on their way right now to establish a far greater colonial empire than the occidental nations ever dreamed of.

Hollywood Gossip

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Up in the clouds, his sun-pinked face veiled by rosy mists, sat a big song-writing man named Jimmy McHugh.

Invisible cherubs danced over his scalp, tangling and tripping now and then in his remaining fringe of white hair, and one or two of them fell to his big, wide shoulders. I thought—after I'd made it up there in my figurative helicopter to get within talking range—that I saw him wink at the passing angel, or maybe he was just beaming benevolently on the earth below. Mr. McHugh, in short, was in Song-Writer's Heaven.

"I tell you I couldn't believe it," he smiled all over. "I knew it was coming—Kay Kyser had told me. But the way he told me! He said, 'Jimmy, your 'Comin' in on a Wing and a Prayer' is No. 2 on the hit parade this week.' I said that was swell. Then he said, 'Your 'Let's Get Lost' is No. 1.' Well, I never had such a thrill, and I sat by the radio that night in a fever, waiting, still hardly able to believe it. . . . I tell you it was a wonderful feeling!"

"But you've been on the hit parade before," I suggested, ducking a high-flying P-38.

"Yes, but it's the first time any of us ever had the top song and the runner-up the same week. He sniffed at a passing cloud, which was obviously pleasant because he smiled again—all over.

HOW about those songs? "Well, 'Let's Get Lost' was written for Betty Hutton to sing in 'Happy-Go-Lucky.' Frank Loesser did the lyrics. It's wonderful to have a great personality sing your songs—it's a pleasure to write for one. 'Comin' in on a Wing and a Prayer' was a title suggested to me in a letter from Sonny Bragg, flying in North Africa. Sonny used to play football at Duke. When I was reading his letter the title hit me. That's the way it is—you're sitting down, or walking, or talking, and all of a sudden a title passes by, right in front of your eyes, and says 'Hello. A tune's the same way—I just drifting suddenly into your ear. I took that title to Harold Adamson and he wrote the lyrics, and Eddie Cantor—one of his daughters married my son Jimmy Jr.—introduced it. It went from there."

JIMMY McHUGH began his musical career as a boy in Boston, working in the press department at the Boston Opera. His mother—she lives with him now—taught him to play. An Irving Berlin representative hired him to plug tunes, and he was in. Some of his better-known tunes: "I Can't Give You Anything but Love, Baby," "I'm in the Mood for Love," "South American Way." He had another "prayer" title since "Comin' In"—"Say a Prayer for the Boys Over There," written for Deanna Durbin. This may or may not result from the fact that he's a regular passer of the collection box at a Beverly Hills church every Sunday.

Wars Films Should Draw Large Crowd

The first showing in Warren of two new war films will take place in the high school, Tuesday evening, when the Exchange Club presents a program of movies and music. The films were purchased Friday by the Warren county council of defense, and have been seen only by members of the council.

One is the "Battle of Tunisia", picturing the action which made possible the present invasion of Sicily from the African continent. The other picture shows the dramatic stand of the Russians in Stalingrad.

The Exchange Club also is showing "Cannon on Wings", which explains what makes a Bell Airacobra so efficient. It also shows what this plane is doing in action.

Music will be provided by the combined VFW and National Forge band, and army air corps officers will be present to take over a small portion of the program.

The Exchange Club is presenting this program, at no cost to the public, in an effort to create interest in the airplane spotting post which the American Legion and the air corps want to establish in Warren. A booth will be placed in the lobby of the school where volunteers may register. A similar booth in Metzger-Wright's lobby obtained seventy-one spotters, Saturday.

Tuesday's program starts at 7:30. Everyone is welcome.

AN ORDINANCE

No. 367

An ordinance amending an ordinance entitled "An ordinance making regulations for the care and removal of garbage and other refuse matter, including the imposition and collection of a license fee for gatherers of garbage, and prescribing penalties for the violation of such regulations", adopted August 6, 1923, and approved August 9, 1923.

WHEREAS, a shortage of labor has been caused by the war; and it is represented by the companies gathering garbage in the Borough of Warren, that they are not able to employ enough men to gather garbage in the manner heretofore employed, and that it will be necessary for the persons, firms or corporations from whose premises garbage is gathered, to place the receptacles containing the garbage, on the days that garbage is gathered, at places more accessible to the collectors.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ENACTED AND ORDAINED by the Burgess and Town Council of the Borough of Warren, Pennsylvania, and it is hereby enacted and ordained by authority of the same as follows:

Section 1. That Section 2 of Ordinance No. 57 entitled, "An Ordinance making regulations for the care and removal of garbage and other refuse matter, including the imposition and collection of a license fee for gatherers of garbage, and prescribing penalties for the violation of such regulations", and adopted August 6, 1923 and approved August 9, 1923, be and the same is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 2. (a) Every person, firm or corporation from whose premises garbage is gathered shall provide and keep at all times a portable metal can or receptacle, water tight with handles on the outside and a tightly fitting cover

Pig Boat

At sea on a submarine isn't exactly the "life of Riley." In the Battle of the Atlantic, or on the great stretches of the Pacific these sailors know the hazards of their work.

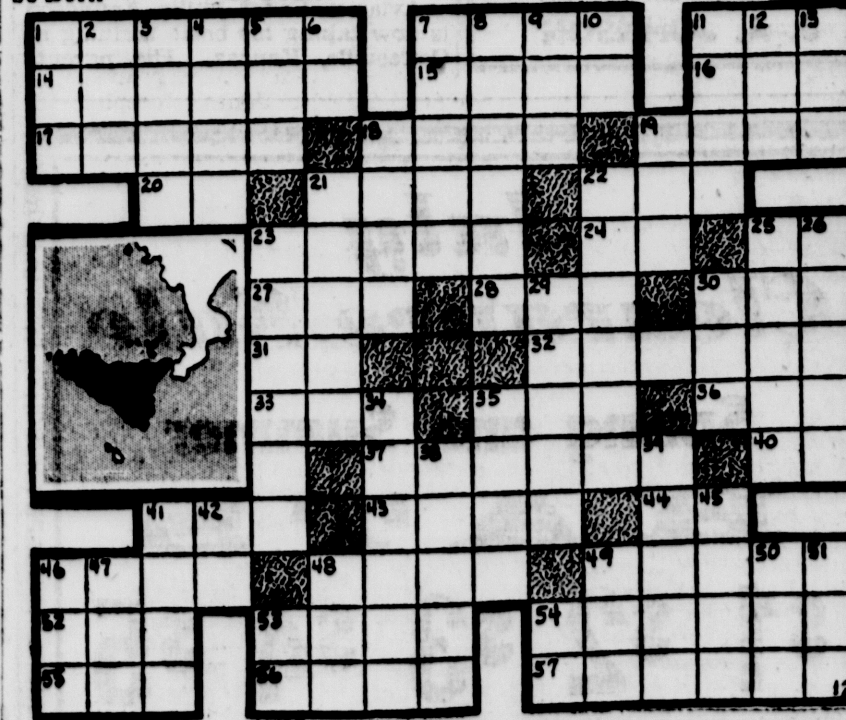

One of the spots aboard these "Pig Boats" that all crew members enjoy is the galley, or kitchen. Space limitations prevent an elaborate set-up, but cooks aboard these vessels are justly proud of the meals they prepare for their crews. Your increased purchase of War Bonds helps make submarine life as pleasant as possible.

Forgers Split With Corry In Double Bill Over the Weekend

Before a good crowd the Forgers and Corry split a double bill Sunday at Corry with the Stumptown outfit taking the first game after the Forgers had led all the way to the eighth inning. In the eighth Corry sent eight runs over the platter and it was curtains for the Forgers. Hines had pitched superb ball up until that time when Corry found the ball and Hines committed two errors and Morrison also made a couple of bobbles and away went the ball game. Corry made five hits in this inning and to add to the troubles Corry misjudged a fly. The Stumptowners are getting better as the season advances and their brand of ball played Sunday was excellent. They are on top toe every inch of the way and have one of the outstanding clubs of the district.

In the second game the Forgers came on the field with slightly red faces as a result of their blowing the first game in a lurid eighth inning and for a time it looked like they would drop another game but they came from behind to take the game. Corry hopped off with a three-run lead in the opening inning and seemed to have a double victory in their grasp but the Forgers finally took command and tallied in the third inning with across and again in the 5th and 6th inning they sent runners home and wound up the seven-inning fracas by a score of 4 to 3.

Kulick pitched some brilliant ball in pinches and Massa and Rosequist gave him yeoman support with their brilliant fielding. Creola, Swanson and Morrison led the Forgers with some good willow waving, each of them having two safe blows.

An effort is being made to get these two teams together on a local field this week and if the arrangement is completed the fans can rest assured they will see some real baseball.

Next Sunday the Forgers have the St. Marys Colts as opponents at Russell Field and this will be a ball game. The Colts have been raring to go ever since the rain-drops shattered their hope of trimming the Forgers and they will be out for a kill. The Colts have one of the speediest aggregations of ball and bat artists to be seen in this section and the Forgers will have to be preheated to take 'em.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
New York, July 12—(AP)—Thought for tomorrow: If you consider a thirteen-day unlucky day, how'd you like to manage a ball team composed of these players, all born on the 13th? . . . Pitchers, Wild (Donovan), Rube Waddell, Eddie Rommel; catcher, Johnny Kling; fielders, Hal Chase, Edward C. Foster, Charles (Swede) Risberg and Franklin (Home Run) Baker; outfielders, Fielder Jones, Joseph (Sore) and William L. Gardner. Gardner really was an infielder, it you'd have to put a third man in the outfield and there's no use king a chance on sending Waddell out there.

LONGEVITY RECORD: When New York University gave football the heave-to a few years ago, apparently it tossed out the old diege custom of firing the coach at the same time. . . Emil von ling has served 27 years as N. Y. U. track coach, Bill McCarthy 22 years as baseball coach, Howard (Jake) Cann 20 years in basketball, Erald B. MONDAY MATINEE: Shag Shaughnessy, the International league president, blames football for the decline of college baseball, which was big-time stuff when he went to Notre Dame. . . "And it 't good football, either," he argues. "I don't know how many Army-ore Dame games I've seen, but if they can't play any better than at, I'll stick to the pros." . . If you think Tex Hughson is a menace the Yankees (he's beaten them three out of four this season), how out Bernie Boland, old-time Detroit hurler, who did it a dozen times a row? Or Christy Mathewson, who took 22 straight from the out time he beat Earl Eby, the great Penn half miler who tied down to sports writing in a 100-yard dash. "The reason I n," Joe admits, "was that we raced on a cinder street in Chapel Hill, C, and Earl slipped right after the start."

BOBO'S BLOW BLOW:
The fate of Newsom was sad and gruesome. Suspended because of the way he threw some. His pace was laggin', his face was saggin' And for once he let Bobby do all of the bragan. Rickey talked to the two some and said: "We may lose some, "But for discipline's sake, "I must let Newsom stew some."

Flatbush Filbert Says:

Leo the Lip On Way Out As Aftermath of Argument Which Startled the World

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Leo "Lippy" Durocher apparently is on the way out as manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers as the aftermath of the revolt against his leadership that startled the baseball world Saturday.

While on the surface peace reigned today in this latest Ebbses Field episode, involving the three-day suspension of star pitcher Bobo Newsom for what Durocher termed "insubordination," the sentiment of the players was reliably reported to be that they are "sick of being second guessed" and that future flareups can be expected unless Durocher succeeds in restoring harmony. New York baseball writers agreed that "there are strong reasons to believe Leo will not last the season as manager."

These developments overshadowed yesterday's furious action on the diamond that saw the St. Louis Cardinals and the New York Yankees sweep doubleheaders from the Boston Braves and Chicago White Sox to widen their leads to 5½ and 4½ games respectively.

The onrushing Cardinals chalked up their sixth in a row and their 13th triumph in 15 starts as Harry Gumbert blanked the Braves 3-0 on six hits in the first game and Whitey Kurowski doubled with the bases full in the 11th inning for a 9 to 6 conquest in the nightcap.

The Yankees likewise wound up their western invasion in fine style by making it four straight over the White Sox and their ninth win in 11 starts.

Spud Chandler won his 10th game with a six-hit 9-0 shutout in the opener. In the nightcap the Yanks took a 6-0 lead, blew it when the Sox scored six in the seventh inning, then won out, 8-6 in the ninth on Rookie Bub Metheny's first home of the season.

Milo Candini suffered his first defeat in eight starts for Washington when Cleveland knocked him out in the first inning and on to a 5 to 1 victory behind Al Smith's five-hit twirling. The Senators, however, gained a split for the day by winning the second game 6-4 in 10 innings. Gerald Priddy drove in the winning run with a fly to the bases loaded.

Detroit and the Philadelphia Athletics also split a twin bill. Rookie Don Black of the A's beat the Chicago Cubs and the New York Giants delivered their second successive doubleheader. Ernie Lombardi's 10th inning homer won the first for the Giants 4-3. Bill Nicholson's seventh inning homer with one on gave the Cubs the second by the same score. Mel Ott, leading major league home run clutter, connected for his 14th in the second game.

Aided by Bob Elliott's sixth inning triple that scored the tying and winning run Max Butcher, Pittsburgh right hander, beat Brooklyn for the first time 3-2. The Dodgers came back to win the nightcap 5-4, with a four-run uprising in the eighth. Relief pitcher Xavier Rescigno, who made only one pitch, was charged with the defeat. The pitch was hit for a single by Billy Herman who later scored the winning run on Mickey Owen's one-baser.

Arky Vaughn, third baseman who asserted that Newsom's suspension was unjust and turned in his uniform Saturday, then relented after a conference with President Branch Rickey, played in both games, getting three hits in seven times at bat.

Lamotta And Zivic Meet This Evening

Pittsburgh, July 12—(AP)—Fritz Zivic, former welterweight champion, and Jake Lamotta, the Bronx battler step into the Forbes Field ring tonight in an effort to settle once for all the question as to which is the better boxer.

The split decision which resulted when they got together June 10 left a margin of doubt—especially because it favored Lamotta and the ringside sentiment appeared to be for Zivic.

Jake's manager, Mike Capriano, says his man will be looking a lot better than he did in the last session.

"Lamotta wasn't himself at the 155½ pounds he fought under last time," said Capriano. "This time he'll come in closer to 159, which makes a difference."

And it may, for Fritz says he'll likely weigh in at 149. There also is a difference of 10 years. Lamotta celebrated his 21st birthday last Saturday.

None of this appears to worry Zivic. "He's made to order for me," said the confident Fritz. "I'm going to shoot for a knockout this time."

Whether it's the narrowness of the previous decision or the blandness of Zivic's belief in his own prowess, the odds on Lamotta have dropped from 8 to 5 to 7 to 5 since he arrived Saturday.

The bout is set up for 15 rounds at Fritz's request. The June match went 10 rounds.

The Tigers 4-3 in the opener when Pete Suder tripled in the ninth and scored after Bob Swift's outfield fly. The veteran Tommy Bridges twirled a brilliant three-hit shut-out to gain a 9-0 triumph for the Tigers in the nightcap. He faced only 29 batters sin hanging up his 24th against two defeats.

Behind the seven-hit pitching of Buckey Walters and Ray Starr Cincinnati beat the slumping Phillies twice 7 to 4 and 14-2. Walters helped win his first triumph since May 26 by driving in three runs with as many hits, one a homer.

The St. Louis Browns took both ends of their bargain bill from the Boston Red Sox. Chet Laabs' 11th homer of the year won the first game 8-7 in 12 innings while Nelson Potter twirled a five-hitter to take the afterpiece, 4-2. Bobby Doerr, Red Sox second baseman, ran his string of errorless chances to 306.

The Chicago Cubs and the New York Giants delivered their second successive doubleheader. Ernie Lombardi's 10th inning homer won the first for the Giants 4-3. Bill Nicholson's seventh inning homer with one on gave the Cubs the second by the same score. Mel Ott, leading major league home run clutter, connected for his 14th in the second game.

Aided by Bob Elliott's sixth inning triple that scored the tying and winning run Max Butcher, Pittsburgh right hander, beat Brooklyn for the first time 3-2. The Dodgers came back to win the nightcap 5-4, with a four-run uprising in the eighth. Relief pitcher Xavier Rescigno, who made only one pitch, was charged with the defeat. The pitch was hit for a single by Billy Herman who later scored the winning run on Mickey Owen's one-baser.

Arky Vaughn, third baseman who asserted that Newsom's suspension was unjust and turned in his uniform Saturday, then relented after a conference with President Branch Rickey, played in both games, getting three hits in seven times at bat.

MURDER IN TIN

By CARL A. PETERSON

ernment had built in Texas. My job was tin; tin and more tin. Not that I couldn't see my boss's logic. If my job was tin, Sam Taggard in a sense was tin. He was also a few other things; he had his specialties too. He was a mining engineer. He was a famous discoverer of ore fields all over the Latin Americas. He was a high-class racketeer who had, prior to Pearl Harbor, consistently played a speculative game with his various discoveries. He had broken contracts so frequently that he himself had been a gold mine to a whole series of lawyers. He was also damned good at staying missing right now. He was a person whom we just had to find.

A nation at war must have tin and we had less of it than ever. Ninety thousand tons out of the hundred thousand tons of tin that we had used in peacetime had come from the Andes and the Dutch East Indies. That was the single staggering statistic.

We needed tin for the fighter planes we were building. We needed tin for Babbitt metal to go into our war-time machinery. We needed tin for the billions of food cans being sent overseas to our A.E.F.s.

It made me burn when I thought of Sam Taggard. He was, of course, a traitor. For a while Fall had believed him dead, murdered by Axis agents somewhere in Latin America. But later our counter-espionage had reported him as alive. He was alive and had already collected about two hundred thousand dollars to stay in hiding and keep his tin ore from being exploited for the duration.

Counter-espionage had reported him as wanting a million dollars before turning over the maps of his discovery to the Axis agents. Fall also felt that Sam Taggard was clever enough to conceal the maps from both the Gestapo and the Japs. He had spent a lifetime in such strategies. Besides, his life wasn't worth much if Axis agents were to get hold of his maps. They would liquidate him immediately to prevent him from double crossing them.

The next morning, I said goodbye to the Superintendent and the staff of engineers stationed at the Patino mines and took he train down to Potosi.

YESTERDAY: John Calder, a mining engineer, has been ordered by Washington to join the search for Sam Taggard, a missing mining promoter who has discovered a huge deposit of tin. Calder goes to Mexico City where he learns his first contact will be Sam Taggard's beautiful daughter, Lila.

Chapter 2

IN my room at the Hotel Potosi in Mexico City I passed from sleep to half-awake. I had been dreaming of Sam Taggard. I had been pursuing him up the slopes of the Cerro Rico in Bolivia. The Cerro Rico or the treasure mountain is the same rock mass that had once produced silver for Philip II of Spain and was now producing tin. I glanced at my wrist watch. It was nearly six o'clock, that always exciting hour in Mexico City when all the auto horns in the world seem to announce the end of another slow warm afternoon. I listened to the tooting and blaring of the cars down below on the avenidas and remembered that I was in the room next to that of Sam Taggard's daughter. My boss, Lew Fall, had already preceded me to Mexico City. He had informed me that she had been questioned officially. I was to make her acquaintance unofficially. In four days I'd failed to get beyond a keep-your-distance smile. For a tin specialist, it was definitely one hell of an occupation.

An argument was going on in Sam Taggard's room. The argument was in Spanish and I understood very little of it. My limited Spanish is that of a mining engineer's and the man in the room with her wasn't discussing milling or smelting.

I KNEW he wasn't her husband or her lover; Fall had given me all the pertinent details about Miss Taggard. Twenty-three years of age; born in Rio de Janeiro; resident in Latin America almost all of her life; mother dead eighteen years; no occupation; never short of money; possibility of being involved with the Gestapo; no proof of such involvement except loyalty to her father.

Listening, I didn't need a dictionary to know that the man was giving her hell. His words had a thin whining edge to them. I hadn't mentioned angry Spanish visitors.

"Get out of this room!" She was speaking, now, in English. Her voice had a sharp tang to it that made me reach for her and to the door. My heart was banging away in my chest.

"Get out of this room!" she repeated. "I don't know where my father is. Get out!" I stood there, gazing stupidly at the Rivera reproduction on the wall. It was the panel called The Baptism of the Indians, part of the mural called The History of Mexico. The management had hung one in every room. Stupidly, I gazed at the Indian faces and out of all the facts that I knew about Sam Taggard's daughter, one flashed inside of me; Possibility of being involved with the Gestapo. Loyalty to Sam Taggard could only mean disloyalty to her country. She had spoken for my benefit, I thought. She had found out the "pertinent details" about me.

Her visitor rattled some more Spanish at her. I listened intently, but all I recognized was the word for tin, estano. I felt as if I were in a mine shaft and there had been an explosion. But this wasn't the break we had all been waiting for. It was a fake lead, fake as it was obvious.

I WALKED from the door over to the dresser and searched for my cigarettes among the scattered mining texts I had been reading up on.

"Mr. Calder," I heard her say. I smiled nervously at the next-door melodrama. Ham variety that she was playing for my benefit. And just then she cried: "Please come here!"

I was shivering with excitement. The dizzy symphony of auto horns down on San Juan de los Rios was now mine and her smile wasn't chilly. She was wearing a blue and yellow dress with a lacquer-work design. She was slim and dark-haired and she didn't look American, but like a Hollywood conception of a fashionable senorita. Her visitor

THE Superintendent of the Patino mines had given me a match folder some one had mailed him from the States. Sometimes, on that long trip, I would look at it. It was a reminder all right. One cover showed a row of gleaming tin cans against a maroon background with a slogan reading:

Your Country Needs TIN!

On the reverse side there was an illustration of a tin can with at stop and bottom cut out and a second can pressed down flat and a smaller illustration of an industrial plant. The slogans on the reverse side read:

SAVE ALL Cans, Bottle Tops, Etc.

TIN IS AMMUNITION!

I would look at that match folder and the hope ran through my brain that maybe this time I would catch up with Sam Taggard.

"You will make acquaintance daughter," the cable had instructed me. How did she look, this daughter of Taggard's, I wondered. If she was anything like Taggard, the next few weeks would be interesting in a way that wouldn't do much to lengthen my lifetime.

Zones Set Up In Youngsville On Buildings

Youngsville, July 9.—All members were present at this week's meeting of Youngsville's Council. Following routine business, Ordinance 180 relative to fixing certain fire limits for a fire zone, and referring to the construction, alteration and repair of buildings in the borough, particularly those in the fire zone, and imposing penalties for violations, passed third and final reading.

Superintendent F. L. White reported some changes made in the local jail and that at the request of Chief of Police Wescott, water has been placed in the cell room so that it will not be necessary to secure water from the fire headquarters. He also gave a talk on the operation of the disposal plant and asked that some corrections be made in the plant.

President Gilbert Sanford appointed the following council members to act as a building committee and construction within the fire limits as given in Ordinance 180, namely: Leo Johnson, chairman; Robert Spencer and Earl Young.

The meeting adjourned to the call of the president.

GOING TO FINDLEY LAKE

A group of people from the United Brethren church are planning to attend the events at the Findley Lake camp opening Friday of this week. The list includes Mrs. V. D. Smith, Mrs. Plummer Mourer, Mrs. Dallas Haight, Phyllis and Harriett Sullivan, Arlene Carlette, Wanda Finlan, Esther Peterson, Calvin Abraham, George Kay, Robert Freeborough, Rev. C. M. McIntyre. Some of these will stay over the weekend, returning Monday, and others will remain for two weeks.

YOUNGVILLE PLAYGROUND

The community playground project has completed its fourth week. Much interest is being shown and attendance has been good. The largest number of children of children assembled at one time has been 92. The procedure is rather informal. There are softball games, volleyball games, basketball games of various kinds. Story telling periods are also featured. Good sportsmanship and the ability to get along with others are developed.

Now that the grass has been cut on Island Park, there will be more space for play. A merry-go-round is to be added. C. C. Johnson is donating a sand box.

If anyone has horse shoes or any other equipment suitable for playground use, please get in touch with the supervisors, Miss Mott or Mr. Passaro, or send them with some of the children coming to the playground.

Youngsville should be proud of this effort and its results in keeping the children of the community out of doors in suitable, healthful sport, during the school vacation period.

BOY SCOUT PICNIC

Boy Scouts of Troop 31 of the U. B. church will hold a Scout rally and picnic on Island Park Monday evening, July 12. Each individual is requested to bring table service, a tureen and sandwiches. Drinks will be furnished by the committee.

Gilbert Sanford will have charge of the program. Plummer Mourer will provide the drink. Floyd Conklin will have charge of the tables and C. M. McIntyre will stage the roundup. As the grass has been cut, arrangements are being made for a fast softball game.

BEAR LAKE

Bear Lake, July 2.—A clipping from the Sheffield Observer states there are one hundred and twenty-three local women who attended the surgical dressing class, which meets in rooms in the bank building every Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday afternoon and evening. Mrs. Isabelle Pierce Nickerson, who has put in more than 200 hours at the project, is the leader in attendance among the ladies of the community, and can feel justly proud of her record.

Recent weddings at the U. B. parsonage were Hazel Virginia Hagelin, of Jamestown, N. Y., and Robert Henry Johnson, of Warren, June 27, 1943; Sara Jane Grove, of Warren, and Anson Marshall Warner, of Youngsville, July 3, 1943; Gloria Loveall and Charles Lyon, both of Youngsville, July 4, 1943.

Mrs. Phoebe Phillips left for the Chautauque Assembly Grounds on Thursday, where she expects to be for July and August.

Miss Edith Hawkins and Mrs. Ethel Bond, who are teachers in the Jamestown schools, are now at their home here for their summer vacation. We are glad to have them in Bear Lake.

Mrs. Edith Orin, Earl Taylor and other friends from Conneaut, O., were recent callers of Mrs. Cora Cook.

Mrs. Kate Carr, of Youngsville, was a guest of Mrs. Cleo Carr and Mrs. Cora Cook. Mrs. Carr has been sick but was gaining and was on her way to Youngsville after being with her daughter, Mary, at Stowe, Chautauque Lake, for some time.

Invasion Forces in Sicily Roll Ahead

The swift occupation of the string of ports and towns along a 100-mile stretch of Sicily's southeastern coast was accompanied by a furious air action yesterday in which fleets of fast new American A-36 fighter-bombers smashed at least 40 enemy vehicles endeavoring to rush up troops and supplies for counter-attacks, and heavy blows by four-engined and medium bombers at Catania, on the east coast, the Sicilian airdromes of Milo, Sciacca and Gerbini and two other airdromes at and near Reggio Calabria on the Italian mainland.

(The Italian communiqué, recorded by the Associated Press from broadcasts, declared "Italian and German troops decisively went over to counter-attacks."

(The German communiqué said at one place the Axis counter-attack "drove the enemy back at first contact," but German military quarters were quoted in other Berlin broadcasts as admitting that the Allies "in other places were able to hold their positions."

American troops completely controlled the vital southern port of Gela, with its important road and railway facilities approximately 55 miles west of the southeastern tip of the island.

The Allied command officially said that American and RAF fighters "maintained control" of the air over the advancing Allied troops.

The official air reports said 45 enemy planes were destroyed yesterday, compared with the loss of nine Allied aircraft.

The enemy obviously was trying to build up forces for a counter-attack, for pilots reported heavy troop movements on many roads leading to southeastern Sicily.

Troops Kill Negro In Riot at Shenango

Later, an undetermined number of colored soldiers forcibly entered a supply building in their battalion area and armed themselves with rifles and ammunition and began firing into an area occupied by white soldiers.

"A colored soldier was wounded and died at 10:47 p. m. in the station hospital. Six other colored soldiers were admitted to the post hospital for treatment of gunshot wounds. Another soldier was treated for cuts and lacerations."

ground as when they began their offensive, which has cost them 2,500 tanks and 1068 planes in a single week.

Russian bombers struck at Belgorod last night in a continuation of the attacks on the German rear line positions.

The armored columns, which continue to be the backbone of the German offensive, are constantly being reinforced and the Red artillery, which remains the backbone of the Russian defense, continues to knock them off as fast as they come.

HOME ON FURLOUGH

Millard Baxter, P. C., of Scott Field, Ill. and Louis Baxter Seaman, First Class, U. S. Naval Air Station, Hatteras, N. C., have been called home because of the illness of their mother, Mrs. George Baxter, Hill street. Mrs. Baxter recently underwent a serious operation at the Warren General Hospital. Her condition is reported as satisfactory at this time.

YOUTH PARTY AT Y

All young people between eighth grade through college ages cordially invited to attend the "mixed swim party" to be held at the Y. M. C. A. pool Tuesday night by the Presbyterian Youth Recreation Committee. The hour will be from seven until eight o'clock and those interested may learn further details concerning the small admission charge by contacting either K. W. Davis or Mrs. Ralph Sires.

Chapin Hall had a virile pen and his descriptive matter was carefully prepared and highly interesting. He not only acquired fame as a writer for the Los Angeles paper but also contributed to syndicates and magazines and had a nation wide reputation as newspaper man and writer.

SIDE GLANCES By Galbraith

"The motion is, with so many young military women strangers in our city, the club do something to entertain them!"

W. T. Corbett, Chairman of the Warren County Salvage Committee, this morning issued a report on salvage collected for the month of June, as follows:

Steel and Cast Scrap—566 Gross Tons.
Tin Cans—22 1/2 Gross Tons.
Household Fats—3,393 pounds.
Silk Hosiery—335 Pounds.
Rags—10,500 Pounds.
Paper of all kinds—136 Net Tons.
Brass, Copper, and Bronze—44,635 Pounds.
Collapsible Tin Tubes—210 Pounds.

This represents an increase over the month of May in all categories except rags, paper, and collapsible tubes. The decrease in rags is a heavy one, from 18,550 pounds in May. The decrease in paper is also quite noticeable, from 172 1/2 tons in May; while the collapsible tubes collected were less than 50 per cent of the 555 pounds collected in May.

Slight increases were shown in the collection of steel, tin cans, and household fats; while a very marked increase was shown in the collection of brass, copper, and bronze, which more than doubled the May total.

Mr. Corbett also reported that the Youngsville School recently received a check for $73.67 for scrap collected; while Sugar Grove School received checks for $165.88 for scrap and $63.05 for paper collected. Other County Schools received checks in varying amounts.

The continued need for the saving of tin and paper was vigorously emphasized by Mr. Corbett. All kinds of paper should be saved. Kraft and brown paper should be kept separate from other kinds.

Tin is urgently needed not only for general war uses, but specifically for the manufacture of the magic little "syrrette" which is playing so vital a part on the actual fighting fronts. "Syrrettes" is the term applied by the Army and Navy Medical Corps to little individual morphine hypodermic syringes. Every Army and Navy Medical Corps officer and doctor carries a supply with him. Every Army and Navy nurse uses them. Every medical paratrooper, every flight surgeon, carries an extra supply. Every long range bomber is equipped with these little tin hypodermics. So, too, is every field and naval hospital. Syrettes are standard equipment in arctic kits, jungle kits, aeronautic kits—used by soldiers, sailors, marines, and coast guardsmen who must fight alone.

The syrette is a tiny thing about the size of the first joint of your little finger. It is about the diameter of a lead pencil, and resembles a small tooth paste tube with a needle at the head enclosed in a transparent plastic covering. Its pouch must be made of tin—100% pure tin. A twist of the finger and the plastic covering is removed, exposing a sterilized hollow needle. It is a simple operation to insert this needle near the wound and squeeze the little pouch.

Your tin cans contribute to the making of these little angels of mercy that will help to save the lives of thousands of our fighting men. It is possible that the tin cans you save will eventually find their steel in a cannon sending shells toward the enemy on the European front, while their tin, 15,000 miles away, covers the little syrette which gives a wounded American soldier the relief necessary to preserve his life until he reaches home.
